

Electronic Press Kit :

Nathan Andrien – Classical Guitarist

Technical rider

- 1 piano stool or 1 flat-bottomed, average size chair

Biography

About me

Born in 2000, Nathan Andrien is a young guitarist from Belgium. He started learning music at the age of 4 and has never stopped since then. Eager to learn, he was always curious and interested in discovering about music and the guitar itself.

In 2018, after spending a year in New-Zealand as an exchange student and having had a few small concert opportunities there, he joined the Royal Conservatory of Liège, Belgium in the class of Hughes Kolp and Adrien Brogna. There, he obtained a Master's degree in Pedagogy of the guitar and a Master's degree in classical guitar, 'soloist' specialization, with the Highest Honors. He also studied at the Franz Liszt Academy in Budapest, Hungary with Andras Csaki, and he's currently pursuing a Master of Music under Carlo Marchione's guidance at the Conservatorium Maastricht.

For the final research work of his Master's degree in Liège, he managed and coordinated a collaboration between the Composition Department of the Franz Liszt Academy of Budapest and the Composition Department of the Royal Conservatory of Liège. The objective was to allow the creation of 4 new pieces of chamber music (2 from each Department), written by composition students, which include classical guitar. The collaboration was completed by a concert in each school as well as by the organization of a trip for composition students with an Erasmus scholarship to supervise the performance of their pieces in the other's school.

Apart from this interest in the creation of living composers' work, he also has a deep love for the colours and the unique tone of the classical guitar, and he's always looking for opportunities to share his thoughts and feelings about the more classical guitar repertoire to the audiences.

He regularly has the opportunity to perform in solo, duo or with an ensemble in Belgium and France, and he enjoyed masterclasses with international classical guitar figures such as Manuel Barrueco, Marcin Dylla, Judicaël Perroy, Aniello Desiderio, Pablo Marquez, Gabriel Bianco...

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Awards and distinctions

Szeged International Guitar Competition 2024, Hungary - 1st Prize

Concours Imagine 'Belgium' 2021 - Finalist of the national selection

Projects and concerts

Nathan takes part in a lot of different professional activities but has 3 main projects he's focusing on: he plays regularly in solo, for which he has regular opportunities through prizes of competition and concert series, a guitar duo, with which he went on tour in Ecuador in November 2023 and will go to Peru with in October 2025, and a guitar-mandolin duo, with which he regularly plays in Belgium, France and Germany. Some other projects include concerts and CD recordings with a plucked strings ensemble directed by famous French mandolinist Vincent Beer-Demander and working with different artists (singer, saxophone...)

Another aspect of his personality as a musician is his will to introduce the classical guitar to a broader audience. With the use of an 8-string guitar, he's working on transcriptions for guitar solo and duo, offering a different aspect of famous repertoire through the light and delicate touch of his instrument. He's currently working on works from Chopin, Rameau, Franck,... and already performs some of his transcriptions in concert with his guitar duo (J.P. Rameau - 'Les Sauvages' ; Chopin - Prélude n° 2, 6, 20). His use of the 8-string guitar offers not only an extended range to the music played, but also opens a door to a completely new world of opportunities and colors, where the listeners will be able to enjoy unheard versions of famous works. He had his debut tour in France in July 2025 on that 8 string guitar, performing in solo and with his duo.

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Biography (medium)

Born in 2000, Nathan Andrien is a young guitarist from Belgium. He started learning music at the age of 4 and has never stopped since then. Eager to learn, he is always curious and interested in discovering about music and the guitar itself.

In 2018, after spending a year in New-Zealand as an exchange student and having had a few small concert opportunities there, he joined the Royal Conservatory of Liège, Belgium in the class of Hughes Kolp and Adrien Brogna. There, he obtained a Master's degree in Pedagogy of the guitar and a Master's degree in classical guitar, 'soloist' specialization, with the Highest Honors. He also studied at the Franz Liszt Academy in Budapest, Hungary with Andras Csaki, and he's currently pursuing a Master of Music under Carlo Marchione's guidance at the Conservatorium Maastricht.

Winner of international competitions, he's always looking for opportunities to share his thoughts and feelings about the guitar repertoire to the audiences through the use of his 8-string guitar. He regularly has the opportunity to perform in solo, duo or with an ensemble in Belgium and France, and he enjoyed masterclasses with international classical guitar figures such as Manuel Barrueco, Marcin Dylla, Judicaël Perroy, Aniello Desiderio, Pablo Marquez, Gabriel Bianco...

Nathan takes part in a lot of different professional activities but has 3 main projects he's focusing on: he plays regularly in solo, for which he has regular opportunities through prizes of competition and concert series, a guitar duo, with which he went on tour in Ecuador in November 2023 (and will tour to Peru in October 2025) but also plays in Belgium, and a guitar-mandolin duo, with which he regularly plays in Belgium, France and Germany. Some other projects include concerts and CD recordings with a plucked strings ensemble directed by famous French mandolinist Vincent Beer-Demander and working with different artists (singer, saxophone...). His use of the 8-string guitar offers not only an extended range to the music played, but also opens a door to a completely new world of opportunities and colors, where the listeners will be able to enjoy unheard versions of famous works. He had his debut tour in France in July 2025 on that 8 string guitar, performing in solo and with his duo.

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Biography (short)

Nathan Andrien is a young guitarist from Belgium. Winner of International competitions, he plays regularly in solo and with ensembles in Belgium and France, with the help of his 8-string guitar. He graduated from the Royal Conservatory of Liege with the highest honors and studied at the Franz Liszt Academy in Budapest, Hungary. He's currently studying under Carlo Marchione at the Conservatorium Maastricht. He can also be found playing in a guitar duo and a guitar/mandolin duo, with which he also performs regularly, playing a chosen repertoire made of arrangements for his 8-string guitar, offering new colors, possibilities and unheard versions of famous works to the listener. He had his debut tour in France in July 2025 on that 8 string guitar, performing in solo and with his duo.

Videos

J.S. Bach - Suite BWV 996 in Em - Prélude : <https://youtu.be/gltH1GIDhPw>

G.P. Telemann – Fanatsia n. 3 in Fm for violin solo : <https://youtu.be/USbBuBuUNys>

J.K. Mertz - Harmonie du Soir : https://youtu.be/1G2fX_WzbGE

N. Coste - Les Soirées d'Auteuil op. 23 (7') : <https://youtu.be/XOlX3fermfc>

Miklos Rozsa - Sonata for guitar op. 42 : <https://youtu.be/mGURp0yfTYA>

Recent past and futures dates

17/11/24 : 'Galerie La Cimaïse' (Liège, Belgium)

23/11/24 : 'Walthère Dewé' Memorial (Liège, Belgium)

13/04/25 : Libin, Belgium

19/04/25 : Szeged, Hungary

29/06/25 : 'Salon des Vennes' (Liège, Belgium)

19/07/25 : Nontron, France

28/11/25 : Festival 'Kaléidoscope de la guitare' 2025 (Rixensart, Belgium)

18/01/26 : 'Salon du 74' (Liège, Belgium)

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Concert Programme 1 (60 min)

A journey through time

J.S. Bach (1685-1750): Suite BWV 996 in Em - Prélude, Sarabande, Bourrée (10')

N. Coste (1805-1883) : Les Soirées d'Auteuil op. 23 (7')

J.K. Mertz (1806-1856) : Elégie (8'30'')

F. Tarrega (1852-1909): Caprice Arabe (5')

J. Rodrigo (1901-1999): Junto al Generalife (6')

Agustin Barrios (1885-1944) : La Catedral – Prélude, Andante, Allegro solenne (8')

C. Domeniconi (1947): Variations on an Anatolian folksong op. 15 (9')

Encore: Isaac Albéniz (1860-1909) : Suite Española op. 47 n. 5 - Asturias (7')

Concert Programme 2 (60 min)

Colourful

F.M. Torroba (1891-1982) : Suite Castellana – Fandanguillo (3'), Arada (4'), Danza (3')

F. Tarrega (1852-1909): Caprice Arabe (5')

V. Asensio (1908-1979): Collectici Intim – La Serenor (4'), La Joia (3'), La Calma (4'), La Gaubança (3'), La Frisança (3')

J.S. Bach (1685-1750): Sinfonia BWV 788 (3'), Sinfonia BWV 797 (3')

J.K. Mertz (1806-1856) : Elégie (8'30'')

Agustin Barrios (1885-1944) : La Catedral – Prélude, Andante, Allegro solenne (8')

Encore: G. Fauré (1845-1924): Pavane op. 50 (6'30'')

Concert Programme (30 min)

J.S. Bach (1685-1750): Sinfonia BWV 788 (3')

H. Villa-Lobos (1887-1952) : Prélude W 419 n. 1 (5')

F. Tarrega (1852-1909): Caprice Arabe (5')

J.K. Mertz (1806-1856) : Elégie (8'30'')

Agustin Barrios (1885-1944) : La Catedral – Prélude, Andante, Allegro solenne (8')

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Photos

Nicolas Deman Photos

Nicolas Deman Photos

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Thomas Andrien Photography

Nathan HERMAN

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)

Conservatoire Royal de Liège

Nathan HERMAN

Last update 07/07/25

Please do not change the text and information (contact me at nathan.andrien@gmail.com if you would like to alter something)