WHY TO CHOOSE studio & design

Designer is important due to the aesthetic value it posses in a given space .The simple fact is that having a house that looks nicer is going to make you like it better and that makes design important. Interior design increases the value of a house/project. A designer looks at your wish list objectively to provide answers that satisfy form, function and budget. You are then able to avoid the downfall and problems encountered by those who take the DIY route. You cannot afford not to hire a professional who can maximize your property value while saving your invaluable time, money and needless aggravation, which gives Better Resources and contact, which gives complete visual story, Stick to the budget, not to forget to get a Trained Eye. Just because you know how to brush your teeth does not mean you do not need to see a dentist.

BRIEFING: Understanding and listening to our clients is something that we believe is fundamental to the success of any project. Invariably, we recommend more than one initial idea, so as to demonstrate the potential of a project.

CONCEPT DESIGN: Refining any design can often involve exploring simultaneous ideas with our clients until a definitive concept is agreed upon.

SCHEMATIC DESIGN: Presented as a series of line drawings, presentation boards and 3D visuals, the chosen concept design can progress to the following stages of detailed design.

DETAILED DESIGN: We believe that in designing the finest details, you invariably create the most beautiful of projects. Similarly, the more time we invest at this stage, we can deliver a more professional and accurate project.

CONSTRUCTION: On site or "Project Management" can provide many challenges. With our qualified team of architects and our many years of experience and resources in other professions, we can offer our clients the highest standard of site management to suit their requirements.

INSTALLATION & FINAL DRESSING: We conclude our projects with a "white glove" installation of all furnishings, dressing each room, ensuring a seamless handover to our clients.
