Attended a county convention in a different county last night. I have SO many thoughts and only a very few are nice- but because my girl was with me, I'll just give you her thoughts.

"That was annoying nonsense"- 11 year old who is evidently more mature than many of the 50+ year olds we witnessed last night.

The RPA MAFIA is part of the political problem... Sadly it's the political system against the people, the sooner folks come to grips with that the sooner things MIGHT change.

After reading all of the comments I am still not sure what the specific issue was but I certainly recognize the tactics and behavior that is being described. A couple of people commented about how Barry is trying to do the right thing and is running the meeting according to the rules. Another said that this exercise is not for the faint of heart. That, along with my observation at other county meetings that exhibit similar behaviors, leads me to make the following observations.

For a group of people who have come together for the purpose of assisting in the election of qualified Republican candidates to public office and to fulfill the needs of the citizens of the State of Arkansas in a manner consistent with the beliefs and principles of The Republican Party, we seem to spend VERY little time actually doing that. As a group, we are not focused on our purpose. We each have to make deliberate choices to act in accordance with our purpose and goals - the purpose of the committee, not our personal purposes.

Robin Martin you're absolutely right! You handled that annoying nonsense, like a class act. You were not bothered or flustered at all. There was a clear divide in that committee between the ones who were there for the right reasons and the ones who were there for a personal vendetta.

Courtney Roldan Funny thing is- they appear to want some of the same things, one guy spoke about local control during the section on bylaws. He was FOR local bylaws to have local control, which is the argument we are making when it come to the state party-we should have local control-not the state party. Many of them like Trump. It's like they are simply fighting for control and power. Look at the ways to make your committee better instead of arguing about letting new people in. You should WANT more people in your committee. That's just crazy.

Lorri Justice yes, but "local control" is more a buzz word to get people to agree. He meant that he wants elected officials back on the executive committee to limit the control the CCRC would have so there are no checks and balances.

Cathy Davis Tarver right. If they'd stop voting with party leadership to silence the county committees that would help all of us

Courtney Roldan yes, yes it would. The people, not just leadership (however they got elected) should have a voice and county committees are one way that's done.

"Annoying nonsense" is a good interpretation!

What so many don't realize is that the D's are organized. There are so many important issues facing this country and rather than spending time growing our party we are bickering over removing things from minutes months prior etc that don't even matter in the larger scheme.

Courtney Roldan you did see them at their good behavior . Just imagine what it's like in a normal meeting, it's insane and I'll be quite honest it's total BS. When Barry won chameleon there were people calling members telling them not to come to the CCRC meetings! These RINO's could not stand the thought of losing their "pick" and they are out to destroy the CCRC, they have said they will not help with any fundraiser. My question to them is if you don't want to help why are you wasting your time to come to the meetings? They ALL ACT LIKE MIDDLE SCHOOL BRATS. There is a man who called our old secretary a "B", there has been guests verbally attacked at the meetings. It's awful it . These so called adults are making fools of themselves, yet they have so much hate in their hearts the do not care about anything but to destroy the committee. I just SMH and get on my prayer bones asking for divine intervention.

Courtney Roldan I'm guilty of being a resident of the county and not regularly going. I membered up last year, I've been to a handful of the meetings, but it's pretty much always like what you saw last night. There's a group there now trying to make an effort,
most or all of them come from the group that successfully combated
the library a few years ago.
However, when you look at what has been accomplished in Craighead over the last few years,
and there's been a lot, it's been done by the Tea Party Organization. There's overlap between the two groups, but none of that progress was made at a Republican committee meeting.
They're too busy making up parliamentarian rules and then voting on whether those rules are allowed or not to actually accomplish anything.

I want to thank everyone who came to our CCRC Convention, yes it's was/is embarrassing the way some just feel the need to act, right out of the gate of our convention the (RINO's, YES IM CALLING THEM RINO's because THATS THE ONLY THING THEY CAN POSSIBLY BE THEY ARE NOT PATRIOTS) starting their normal flooding of motions and out of order pushing and bullying! This happens at EVERY COMMITTEE MEETING, time is wasted over proxies, by laws and such nonsense and has been happening for years. There are people who joined in 2019 who think they are superior to people who joined in 2020, I personally think each person is valuable except for the ones who have verbally stated that they are there only to cause trouble and make us fight amongst ourselves. Jason Pannell has done that.. I will name people if they deserve it I am not afraid of the truth. There have been more CCRC Chairmen to resign, I have watched my husband who is the CCRC chairman do everything he can do to appease these people yet nothing satisfies them. They are not looking out for the good of the people in Craighead county. They are looking out for that little drop of power that they think they can get. I find it sad I find it very evil and extremely self-destructive. I have always been under the impression that being a registered Republican and being in a committee to boost Republicans and to get Republicans

There is no team it's like a bunch of rabid rats running crazy. When a businessman is seen given his employees rewards for coming to their first convention, to vote the way that certain elected politicians want them to people we have to ban together and stop this kind of behavior. This is not America not our way of doing things fairly and honestly.

Some of us saw this coming. Conservative values were made taboo because Arkansas went all crazy for a name.

We lost sight of our purpose, which is Conservative Values, not specific people. Maybe we'll get learn from this. Maybe we'll learn to fashion our message a more effective way. Maybe we'll get serious and take the necessary strategic steps to push conservative values and results. If we do, we restore conservative values in Arkansas. If we don't, conservative values get washed away in Arkansas and conservative gets redefined to suit government.

Again, we saw this coming and weren't ready for it. I hope we are ready now.

I also need to mention a troubling thing that I witnessed:

During a brief recess period, late in the evening, I witnessed a well-known businessman give what looked to be some type of monetary card to several employees within his company that were in attendance. They were all new to the committee so it just seemed odd. It could have been harmless, but the fact that they hid it when I saw it is what made me doubt that 🙄

Jd Haigler. You have to go in with an open mind and make observations and form your own opinion. The goal is to work together to come up with solutions. We need to work on the division. It's a war zone. It's a little overwhelming for the weak at heart. Lol

Jackie Priest Smythe last night's meeting was organized compared to the way the RINO's have been behaving in the meetings for over a year. Barry Eggers is running the meeting by the rules and it's getting better, the CCRC has been making up rules and doing what they want disregarding all of the rules that they can, and making up their own rules for years, it's been nothing but chaotic. I hope you come back and watch how Barry holds the meeting Using the RPA rules and ROBERTS RULES. The RINO's are doing everything they can do to disrupt the meetings but they are not going to get to disrupt anymore meetings.. our Goal is to get a fundraiser together and support our Republican candidates, their ~~goal is to disrupt and cause chaos~~
