

Radiant Leadership in Schools

Because every great school culture starts with a brave conversation.

In today's schools, relationships are everything. But tough conversations—whether with colleagues, students, or parents—can feel intimidating, messy, or even risky. It doesn't have to be that way. Radiant Leadership is a dynamic, skills-based workshop for educators ready to lead with clarity, courage, and compassion. Whether you're a teacher, administrator, or support staff, you'll gain practical, research-backed strategies to strengthen your leadership presence and transform difficult conversations into opportunities for connection and growth.

What You'll Learn

Build Trust

- Discover the micro-moments that strengthen trust in classrooms and staffrooms.
- Identify common “trust breakers” and how to repair them when things go wrong.

Own Your Emotions

- Increase your emotional intelligence with tools to identify, name, and navigate emotional triggers.
- Practice strategies to stay grounded under stress so you can respond—not react.
- Learn self-regulation techniques to manage defensiveness or frustration in high-stakes moments.

Lead with Clarity

- Master the skills to confidently give feedback that's clear, kind, and actionable.
- Move beyond the ineffective “feedback sandwich” with direct language that motivates change.
- Incorporate curiosity and empathy to ensure feedback feels like a dialogue, not a lecture.

Dare to Dialogue

- Overcome common barriers to speaking up, including fear of conflict and discomfort.
- Use the Conversation Compass to balance truth-telling with care and curiosity.
- Script, practice, and gain confidence in navigating the conversations you've been avoiding—whether with a colleague, student, or parent.
