Purpose and Principle

This new container has been designed to provide the very important ongoing community and support to help you anchor in and nourish what you have established and created from your previous 6 months.

It is a resource which revisits and restimulates the frequencies of your rebirthed self, and provides them with enough love and new inspiration so they remain alive and quenched and are able to move you forward more deeply and successfully on your path.

This is the New Wave of Light.

The New wave

You are about to enter into a new octave and wave of the Medicine Wheel and bring her to life deeply within yourself.

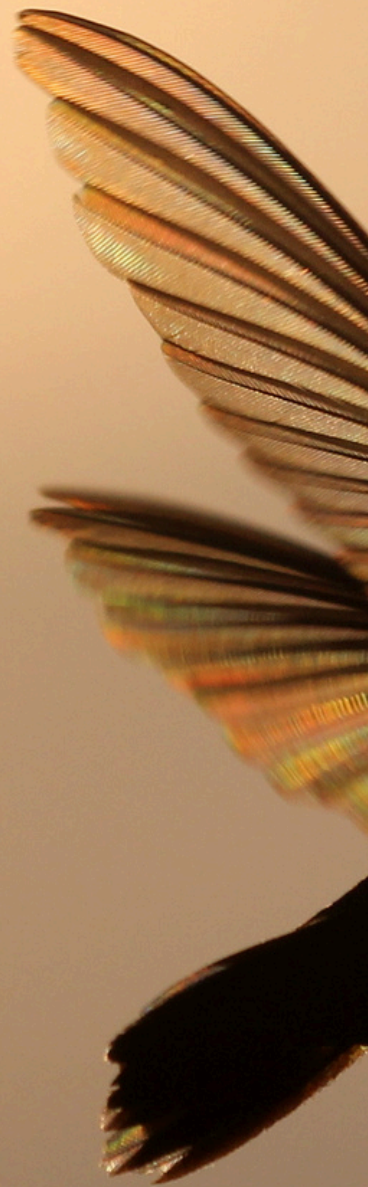

This time our focus is on the Sacred Self. We meet her as the medicine of each of her directions and choose to bring her to life as this celebration of flow state.

We revisit our practices and meditations and harness them as nourishment, as healing and continual celebration and calibration for our self.

We learn to move deeper into our imaginal worlds, to look and perceive and to hear layers that we could not necessarily hear before. And to begin to trust and utilize this as SPIRIT in our lived reality.

We learn Our inner world becomes more important than the external reality we have previously given all our power to.

We find our Power and our Centre and our Heaven within the Heart of The Self.
