Challenges?

- The conditions in cabins: small space, variable temperature, musty smell, damp bedding, no possibility of quick drying
- Classic cotton bedding on yachts becomes damp and over time takes on a musty smell, mold stains appear that are difficult to remove
- Constant washing of traditional bedding consumes large amounts of water and energy
- Stains from creams with filters are also difficult to remove
- Rotating crews sleep in second-hand used bedding
- Various organic contaminants also appear

Solution!

Personal bedding for charterers yachts made of specially designed natural non-woven free from dewy phenomenon!

- The design is based on many years of sailing experience. It was specially designed for yachting conditions to improve the comfort and hygiene of sleep to be the best possible
- Specially designed composition of this unique non-woven fabric gives a very functional material: dew-resistant but parallel hygroscopic and breathable
- After use, the bedding can be biodegradable
- Each user always has new bedding never used by anyone before, and the charter company has no problems with beddings washing and sanitary cleanliness of mattresses in the cabins
