

Greetings

Thank you for visiting my home page. I am pleased to welcome you to Juneteenth, Canada's first bilingual racialized university, built to serve those left behind by the system and provide the benefits of a close-knit community large enough to engage in cutting-edge research and offer a comprehensive academic program. I invite you to browse our website for projected highlights and benefits. They are too numerous to list here, but I want to emphasize that they include a vision of excellence in Afro-descendant, Indigenous and Canadian studies. Additionally, they have a new approach in environmental science/studies, across all traditional and non-traditional liberal arts and sciences, and a growing range of professional programs.

We invite you to be part of the legacy we are creating by joining our teams or contributing to our efforts. You can access our programs, courses and events electronically in many online courses designed to make us available and accessible to students interested in open, blended, continuing and international education opportunities. You can also take our courses on our campus in the heart of the Montreal metropolis - one of the most dynamic and fastest growing regions in Canada, or our future campus, outside the metropolis.

With your support, we look forward to opening our new campus. You can donate to our cause by clicking on this LINK. At Juneteenth Intercontinental University, we enthusiastically prepare the next generations of students for excellence. I encourage you to expect great things from us, the students we educate, and the communities we intersect with.

Do not hesitate to send us your questions and comments. If you think they are addressed to me appropriately, email me directly at rjcesaire@uij.ca. Please find more information about arranging a visit online or at our temporary campus.

Warmly,

R. Joshua Cesaire
