H 587 *FPI Supports	H468, the Idaho Rangeland Improvement Act, was passed in the 2024 legislative session. While revenues are not derived from General Funds, continuous spending for any revenue source were not authorized. This legislation clarifies that funding, regardless of the source, is continuously authorized so that projects can be prioritized and completed in a timely manner.	Patxi Larrocea-Phillips, LP Associates & Agriculture, LLC	2/13 Passed 44-25-1	Resources & Environment
H 630 *FPI Supports	Amends 22-102A, Idaho Code, which provides for the permitting of the use of aircraft in controlling unprotected or predatory animals. The amendments will account for the movement of current administrative rule language into the statute because it is beneficial to have all related requirements related to this matter in a single location in Idaho Code.	Braden Jensen, IFBF	2/24 Passed 60-8-2	Agricultural Affairs
H 631 *FPI Supports	Amend Title 22, Chapter 1, Idaho Code, to incorporate certain language related to Certificates of Free Sale. The amendment will move language from a current administrative rule to statute, which means the regulated community will be able to find all requirements related to this matter in a single location in Idaho Code.	Braden Jensen, IFBF	2/24 Passed 61-7-2	Agricultural Affairs
H 646 *FPI Supports	In other states the practice of third party litigation financing has become a problem, as lenders essentially buy a stake in the litigation that is contingent on the outcome of a lawsuit. In most cases those lenders gain a right to control or influence the litigation as a way to secure their investment. That can cause the	David Claiborne, Sawtooth Law Offices, PLLC	Business actual party to the lawsuit to lose control of the litigation on their own case, essentially selling it to the lender. This legislation provides transparency so that lending arrangements are open to the court and to the litigants. It provides consumer protections to assure that these lawsuit lenders don't displace the actual parties in the decision making on their own litigation and prevents exploitation and undue influence over legal proceedings. Finally, it prevents foreign adversaries and other foreign persons of concern from interfering in the Idaho judicial system by becoming lawsuit lenders.

H 653 *FPI Supports	Ensures transparency and public participation in the process of transplanting and relocating wildlife. It also protects private property rights by allowing landowners and public lands grazing permittees to be notified of proposed transplant and relocation efforts by the Department of Fish and Game. In the event of a "planned movement" or relocation project, the director would be required to notify county commissioners in the county for which the project is to take place, as well as any affected landowners or public grazing permittees in the area of proposed movement or relocation. Upon written objection by any affected landowners or permittees, the county commission would conduct a hearing and at said hearing the commissioners would vote to approve or reject the planned movement. "Responsive movements", or relocations of wildlife due to imminent threat to the public or to the wildlife themselves would not be affected by this legislation.	Dexton Lane, IFBF	Resources & Conservation
H 662 *FPI Supports	Clarifies the Idaho State Department of Agriculture may test milk and cream for any quality parameter that is used by a buyer and seller to determine pricing. It also clarifies that the Idaho State Department of Agriculture, buyer, and seller have a right to the test sample.	Jamie Niell, IDA/Travis Jones, Riley Stegner & Associates	Agricultural Affairs
H 663 *FPI Supports	Regarding Idaho agriculture license plates, this legislation moves design responsibilities from Food Producers of Idaho to the Idaho Ag in the Classroom Board of Directors.	Cassidey Plum, Plum and Associates	2/23 Passed 65-3-2	Transportation
H 669 *FPI Opposes	Enacts a full repeal of cloud seeding operations by any public or private entity. It also prohibits any type of weather modification activity within the state.	Braden Jensen, IFBF	Awaiting committee referral

It also prohibits encouraging or assisting them to live in the state and providing them with housing, financial support, or legal help if their presence in the U.S. violates federal law. Repeat offenders and those aiding multiple individuals can lose business licenses, face large fines, and even have their vehicles seized. Exceptions exist for law enforcement, emergency responders, and first responders acting in their official capacity.
H 700 *FPI Opposes	Creates a new chapter in Idaho law making it a misdemeanor for employers, labor representatives, or employment agents to knowingly hire, continue employing, recruit individuals who are not lawfully present in the U.S. or authorized to work under federal law. It defines when an individual is considered unauthorized and requires employers to stop employment if they know or should know that work authorization has expired or been revoked. Employers who verify work authorization through the federal E-Verify system before hiring, and receive confirmation, are shielded from criminal liability and may raise good-faith compliance as an affirmative defense. An emergency clause provides for an effective date of July 1, 2026.	Jamie Niell, IDA	Business
H 704 *FPI Opposes	Adds to Idaho employment law to prohibit employment of illegal aliens and require employers to e-verify an employee's legal employment status as a condition of employment.	Jamie Niell, IDA	Business
