Skate Ball GAMES

Skateball

Roller Ball is a team sport played on skates, combining speed, skill, passing, and goal-scoring. Two teams compete to score the most goals using a ball, following clear rules of safety, movement, and fair play.

Roller Basket

Roller Basket is a skating sport inspired by basketball, where players move on skates and score through a hoop. Points are awarded based on shooting zones, and the game emphasizes agility, control, and high-speed movement

Roller Dodge

Roller Dodge is a fast-paced skating game focused on dodging and quick reactions. Two teams compete to eliminate opponents by hitting them with a ball, requiring balance, timing, and sharp reflexes

Refereeing and Basic Rules

Skateball refereeing is based on fairness, safety, and clear decision-making. Referees are responsible for controlling the match, enforcing the rules, and ensuring a safe environment for all players. The basic rules focus on continuous movement, proper dribbling, safe player contact, and accurate goal scoring. Any dangerous actions, holding, pushing, or unsportsmanlike behavior result in warnings or time-out penalties. The referees work as a team to maintain a smooth, organized, and fair game for both sides.

Government Structure

Leadership, Committees, and Affiliates of the World Skate Ball Federation

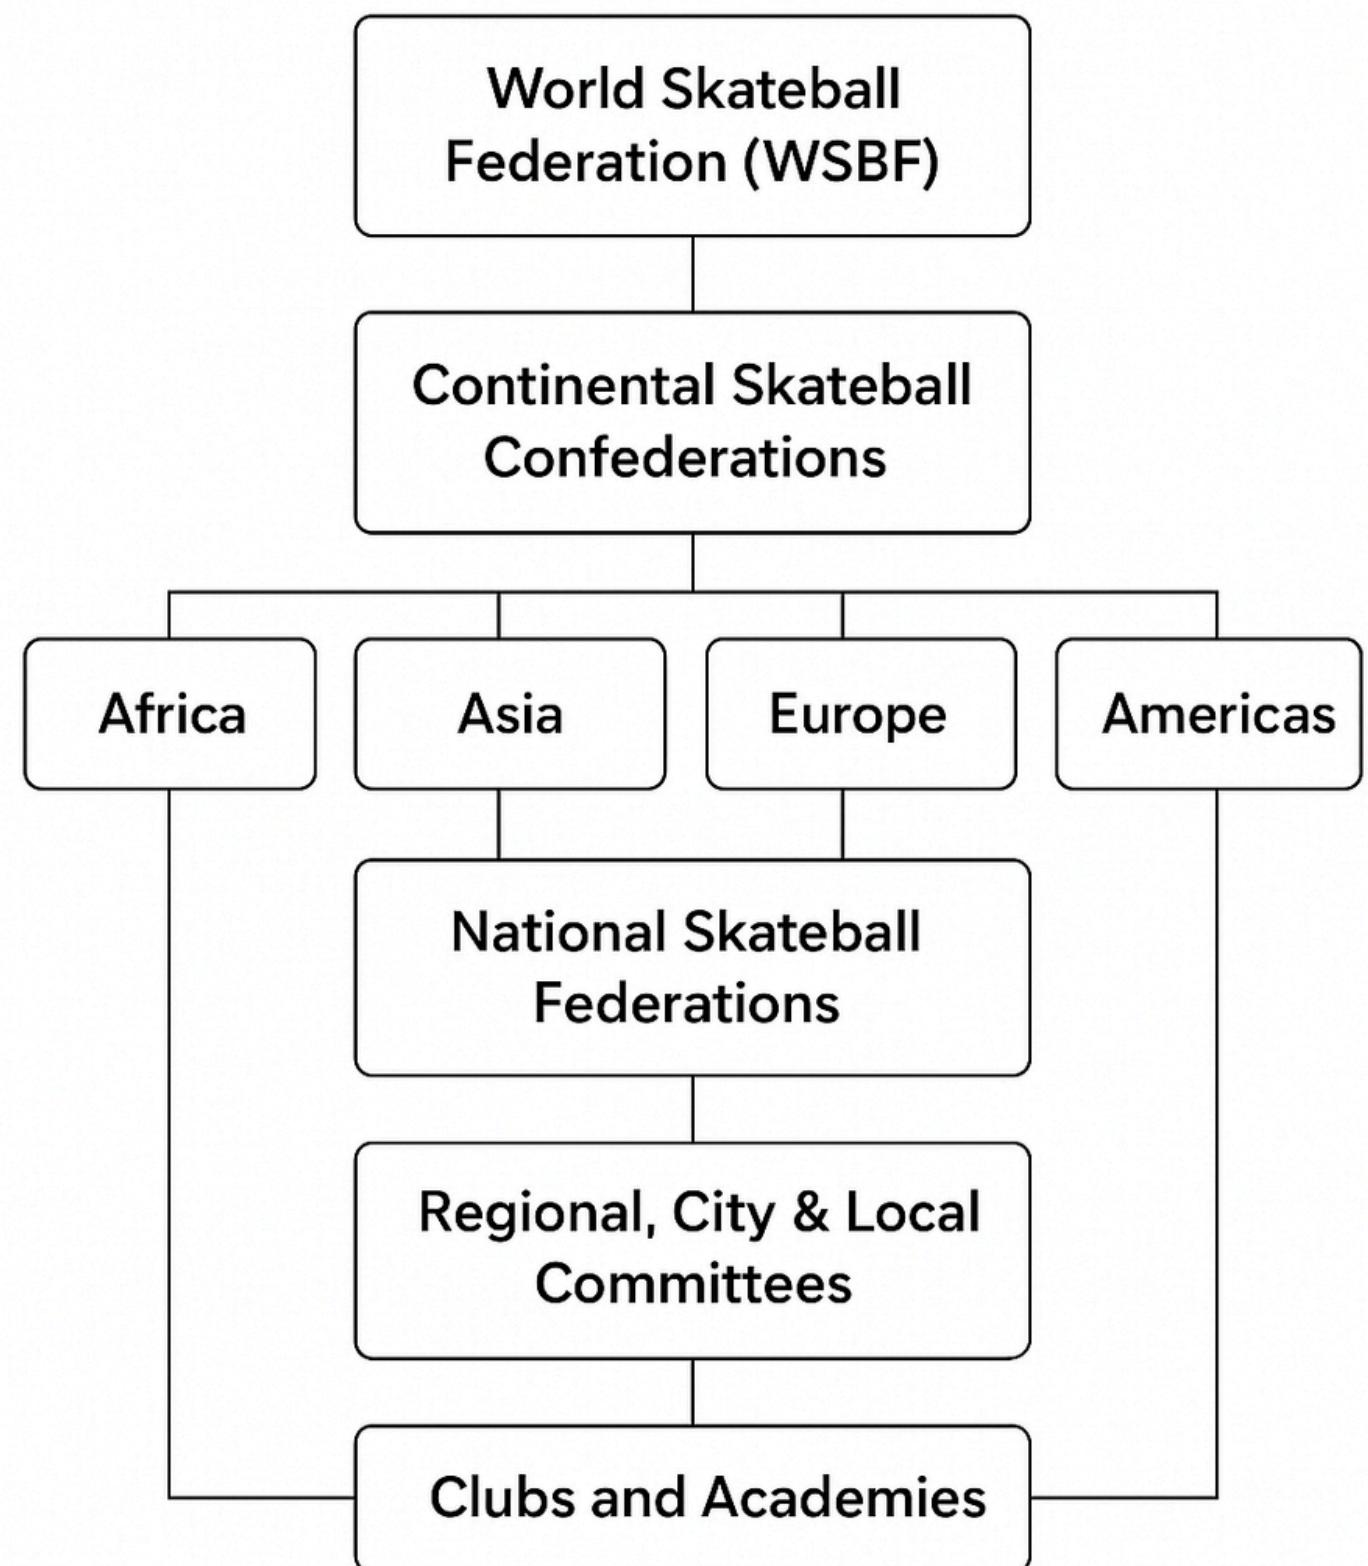

Skateball is governed through a clear three-level system: the World Skateball Federation (WSBF), Continental Confederations, and National Federations.

- WSBF sets the global rules, manages international events, and oversees worldwide development.
- Continental bodies organize regional championships and support member countries.
- National Federations run local leagues, train referees and coaches, and manage national teams.

This structure ensures unified rules, fair competition, and continuous global growth of the sport.
