

The background of the image is a scenic landscape at sunset. A large wooden cross stands on a rocky hill in the middle ground. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow across the sky and the landscape. In the foreground, an open Bible lies flat on the ground, its pages illuminated by the sunset light. The overall mood is peaceful and spiritual.

The image is a composite of two scenes. The left side shows a church service with people's hands raised in the air, backlit by warm, golden light. The right side shows a man in silhouette, sitting at a desk in a dimly lit room, writing in a notebook under a desk lamp. The overall mood is contemplative and focused on the theme of integrity.

II. Doctrinal Integrity

Misquoted

a. Honest Mistake

Integrity

— is not about —
being perfect.

Integrity

is by the willingness to correct it.

Mistakes happen.

Owning it shows courage.

Admitting it shows integrity.

Correcting it
restores trust.

Perfection is a standard we chase.
Integrity is a choice we make.

The measure of integrity is not.
how often you fall, but how quickly you get back up.

b. Conscious Misrepresentation

Misrepresentation

Misrepresentation is intentionally mispresenting.

It resists correction.

The goal is not truth,
but image, influence, or gain.

Misrepresentation leads to misunderstanding

- Study diligently.
- Sound doctrine protects people.
- Corrupt doctrine corrupts lives.

III. Integrity is Consistency

INTEGRITY

is not about perfection

It is consistency
in what we believe

CONCLUSION

As believers, our integrity
is not rooted in our perfection,
but in Christ.

Sound doctrine must lead
to godly living,
and godly living must remain
consistent over time.

Integrity is built over time
when no one is watching or listening.

Stay faithful even when nobody notices.

And someday, once integrity is built,
your life itself will make an impact.

Because Christ
is seen in your life
