

Creative Writing - Describe Characters

Middle Primary Advance English

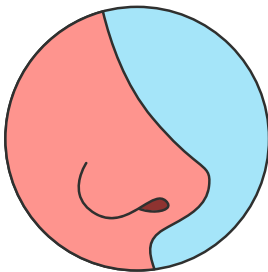

We use our 5 senses in our descriptive writing to share our experiences with the reader.

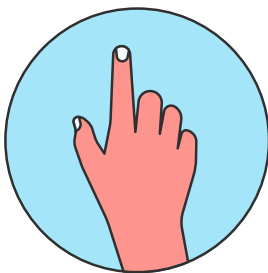

To convey sight in descriptive writing, use vivid, specific details that help the reader picture the scene or character clearly in their mind.

To convey sound in descriptive writing, use lively, sensory language and specific sound words that help the reader hear and feel the noise as if they are present.

To convey smell in descriptive writing, use rich, precise adjectives and comparisons that help the reader imagine the scent and its emotional impact as if they are experiencing it themselves.

Use detailed, vivid adjectives and comparisons in descriptive writing about smell to help readers fully imagine the scent and feel its emotional effect as if they were experiencing it firsthand.

To convey touch in descriptive writing, use vivid and precise sensory language that describes texture, temperature, pressure, and emotional reactions to make the reader feel the sensation as if it were happening to them.

Creative Writing - Describe Characters

Middle Primary Advance English

Every story includes main characters. They can be described not only by their physical features but also by their personalities.

Examples of Sentences:

MALE
Using 5 senses

- With his muscular chest thrust out, the burly man strolled arrogantly into the room.
- The doctor has thick bushy brows that framed his beady eyes.
- The cologne on the salesman was overpowering.

FEMALE
Using 5 senses

- With her dopey eyes, curly eyelashes and lush velvety locks, the woman looked like a doll on display.
- Her petite frame was a great contrast against her husky voice.
- The princess had porcelain smooth complexion.

OLD PEOPLE
Using 5 senses

- The old man had a full crown of snowy white hair that was his pride and joy.
- The jovial elderly man croaked out a hearty chortle.

CHILD
Using 5 senses

- The lanky boy towered like a lighthouse among his peers of the same age.
- The girl has a feisty temperament.

Creative Writing - Describe Characters

Middle Primary Advance English

Fill in each blank with a suitable word using the helping words provided.

Nancy straightened her shoulders and took a deep 1. _____ breath. It was her first day reporting for work today. She intended to leave a good first 2. _____. She inspected her attire once again. Dressing well was 3. _____ to her job as a marketing executive. The business jacket and black pumps were sensible yet 4. _____ looking. She had even cut her long straight blonde hair into a fashionable 5. _____ bob that just touched her ears. A pair of diamond studs peeped from her ears which were the only accessories that she 6. _____ herself with. Satisfied that everything was in order, Nancy added just another 7. _____ of blusher to perk up her pale cheeks before stepping off the elevator.

Her heels sank into thick plush carpets. Nancy paused just inside the entrance of the office and 8. _____. The office was humongous! Despite her countless nights of preparation for her new job, nothing could have prepared her for the class and 9. _____ that was vibrating in the atmosphere itself. A shiver of 10. _____ rushed through her. This job was going to be a real challenge.

professional

vital

swipe

sophistication

mustering

chic

adorned anticipation

impression

gaped

Creative Writing - Describe Characters - Solutions

Middle Primary Advance English

Fill in each blank with a suitable word using the helping words provided.

Nancy straightened her shoulders and took a deep 1. ^{mustering} breath. It was her first day reporting for work today. She intended to leave a good first 2. ^{impression}. She inspected her attire once again. Dressing well was 3. ^{vital} to her job as a marketing executive. The business jacket and black pumps were sensible yet 4. ^{professional} looking. She had even cut her long straight blonde hair into a fashionable 5. ^{chic} bob that just touched her ears. A pair of diamond studs peeped from her ears which were the only accessories that she 6. ^{adorned} herself with. Satisfied that everything was in order, Nancy added just another 7. ^{swipe} of blusher to perk up her pale cheeks before stepping off the elevator.

Her heels sank into thick plush carpets. Nancy paused just inside the entrance of the office and 8. ^{gaped}. The office was humongous! Despite her countless nights of preparation for her new job, nothing could have prepared her for the class and 9. ^{sophistication} that was vibrating in the atmosphere itself. A shiver of 10. ^{anticipation} rushed through her. This job was going to be a real challenge.

professional

vital

swipe

sophistication

mustering

chic

adorned

anticipation

impression

gaped

