To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to provide a letter of reference for Daniela Cadena. As Director of Studies for Easy School of Languages, it was my pleasure to manage her while she worked with us as a general English and Conversation teacher from March 2022 to September 2023.

During her time with the school, Daniela demonstrated exceptional organizational skills. Her lessons were excellently planned with well-prepared materials that suited the level of her students and promoted learner engagement. She is a polite, positive, and enthusiastic teacher who was well-liked by her colleagues and developed great rapport with students, who regularly gave positive feedback. She was always eager to help and support her team when needed and showed great flexibility and open mindedness.

Daniela has a calm and patient teaching style but is also energetic and passionate in class. She demonstrated awareness of a variety of teaching approaches and was able to tailor lessons to her students' needs and apply differentiated teaching methods to create an inclusive learning environment.

Given her positive attitude, organizational skills, and skill as a language teacher, I would be happy to provide a recommendation for Daniela. If you have any questions or would like to discuss Daniela's employment with us further, I can be reached at academic@easysl.com.

Regards,

Terry Williams
