Registering for this events acknowledges and consents to all the information below and outlined in CHOCOLA-TO participation guide:

Each booth is for one company only, no shared space. Booths are strictly non-refundable. A deposit is required in order to reserve a spot. No cancellations, modifications, or postponements will be granted after payment deposit and/or confirmation. Payment by credit card will incur an extra administration fee.

Separate insurance is required in order to participate, and vendors must provide proof to organizers. We can assist with a sponsor link.

Each booth must follow designated placement, be free of garbage and unsightly boxes, and be open for the FULL duration of the event with items to sample and purchase.

Responsibility and declaration of sales and taxes are at the discretion of the exhibitor and if engaging in electronic payment the booth must have their own payment system.

Participation requires no-charge chocolate samples to ticket purchasers, donated items for event swag bags and event volunteers, and one original Holiday tree ornament.
