Servus NECTAR'26

Dear colleagues, researchers, practitioners, and friends,

It is our pleasure to host the 18th International Conference of the Network on European Communications and Transport Activities Research and to welcome you to a city known for innovation, quality of life, and, of course, its famous Biergärten and Brezn.

This year's theme, Planning for Urban Mobility Transitions in Times of Uncertainty, reflects the challenges and opportunities facing cities around the world. Climate change, digitalisation, energy transitions, and societal change are reshaping mobility systems and require new ideas, fresh perspectives, and strong collaboration.

NECTAR provides exactly that. Bringing together researchers and practitioners from across disciplines and countries, the conference is a place to exchange knowledge, challenge assumptions, and develop solutions for more sustainable, inclusive, and resilient mobility futures.

But NECTAR is more than a scientific conference. It is a warm and welcoming community. Many of us have experienced how discussions that begin in conference sessions continue over coffee, dinner, or a stroll through the city. Here, competing colleagues often become collaborating partners, and academic contacts turn into lasting friends.

As your hosts from the Technical University of Munich, we hope you will enjoy not only the scientific programme but also the unique atmosphere of Munich and Bavaria.

On behalf of the organising committee, thank you for joining us. We wish you inspiring discussions, new collaborations, and a wonderful stay in Munich.

Herzlich willkommen in München – and welcome to NECTAR'26.
