

YOU DON'T HAVE TO UNDERSTAND EVERYTHING TO KNOW WHAT'S RIGHT

You don't need to be an expert in gender theory to recognize suffering.

You don't need to "get it" to know when a kid says, "This is who I am," you don't punish them for it.

This isn't a debate. This isn't an attempt at radicalization. This isn't a slight against God.

This is about real children who are:

- Harassed in their schools
- Denied healthcare
- Rejected by their families
- Stripped of dignity by adults who should know better
- Shamed by an entire population of people
- Dehumanized by intolerance and bigotry

And for what? To advance a fascist agenda? To appease the minds of the ignorant? To cling to a false sense of moral superiority?

You can pretend it's about "protecting children." But when you actively strip away the validity of their fundamental identities: Then, you're the danger. You're the danger if you think protecting trans kids is up for discussion.

OurBloodIsOnYourHands.com

THE NUMBERS DON'T LIE - YOU'RE JUST
OKAY IGNORING THEM

- ★ Trans youth who are affirmed are 70% less likely to experience depression
- ★ They're 50% less likely to consider suicide
- ★ They thrive when supported - and suffer when rejected
- ★ When they suffer, when they are rejected, they kill themselves
- ★ 14% of trans kids attempted suicide last year
- ★ The most common modality of suicide in trans youth is slit wrists.

History Is Watching

One day, people will ask what you did.

Where you stood.

Whether you made it easier or harder for a trans child to grow up whole. To grow up at all.

What will your answer be?

If your legacy is that you made a kid feel like their life didn't matter- you failed. Not as a politician. Not as a parent. But as a human.

Right now, you can choose better. You can choose to stand with trans kids and their families. You can choose to fight fascism. To stand against hatred. To punch bigotry in the face. To burn ablaze the institutions that have told us we were less than. To be the champion you've always needed--the champion trans kids need, RIGHT.

NOW.

OurBloodIsOnYourHands.com

