Edition8 Magazine Should Be on Your Scholar's Summer Reading List

Edition8 Magazine Relaunches Its Read Every Word Campaign for Summer Readers

Atlanta, GA - May 24, 2023 - Edition8 Magazine is celebrating its one-year anniversary with the relaunch of its "Read Every Word" Campaign (R.E.W.). Young people remain the nation's top readers. Even in an AI-centered, e-learning society, young people between the ages of 17-35 enjoy reading more than any other group. And printed content continues to be their top format choice, according to Experteditor.com.au. This year, Edition8 Magazine's R.E.W. Campaign plans to recruit more readers.

Starting this summer and for the next six months (July–December), Edition8 Magazine invites all Millennials, Gen Zers, and scholars to read with us for at least 30 minutes every day. For six-months, subscribers will get six printed copies of Edition8 Magazine, become official Edition8 Magazine book club members, and receive a free R.E.W. t-shirt. Edition8 Magazine is a young adult-inspired magazine offering cover-to-cover immersive content like general news, pop culture, education, health, technology, politics, inspiration, puzzles, and brain teasers. The R.E.W. Campaign advocates reading for enjoyment and to stay informed.

Edition8's target audience are our nation's future leaders. In order to thrive and be successful, Edition8 provides them with positive and productive content. Content consumed via media outlets should offer more than violence, crime, corruption, and gossip. Noting that over 90% of young adults prefer to read the news instead of watching or listening to it, Edition8 Magazine prides itself on investing in the quality of the content that young people are consuming and how the stories and the content they consume are affecting their lives. Join us as we shape a new generation of avid readers!

Edition8 Magazine was founded by its Editor in Chief, Alaina J. Coats, in Atlanta, GA, in 2022. "As overseer of news and content, each month I am purposeful and intentional to present topics that bring awareness to under-reported good news stories," Coats said in a press release from the magazine's parent company, Alaco Media. Edition8 is making a name for itself in the media industry as "the #1 trusted source for 'real' news." It is reimagining "news" stories transmitted through the media and presenting stories that matter. To get your six-month R.E.W. Campaign subscription just in time for summer reading, visit edition-8.com to sign up and to learn more about Edition8 Magazine.
