7 Points of Deception: A Phoenix Hard Rock Force

BIO

7 Points of Deception delivers high-octane hard rock with a politically charged punch. Their sound is built on face-melting riffs, relentless rhythms, and vocals that challenge the status quo. Inspired by rock, metal, and even funk influences, this band uses music as their weapon against corrupt power.

The Band

- Clint (Vocals): A poet turned lyricist, Clint brings raw honesty and a drive for change. "I want to end the FED. Music is my weapon."

BIO

- Pete (Lead Guitar): 35 years of experience fuel his passion.
"My goal is to inspire and uplift through music."

- Chad (Rhythm Guitar): Seeking connection through music that speaks truth.

BIO

- Lee (Drums): Driven by hard-hitting nu-metal energy, he wants their message to go mainstream.

BIO

- Odin (Bass): Delivering bone-rattling riffs with influences ranging from Tool to Mudvayne.

The Mission

Formed in 2023, 7 Points of Deception isn't just about the music. They expose corruption and ignite rebellion. Get ready for a sonic uprising against the establishment!

What's Next

The band hits the studio in June 2024 to unleash their 7-song EP with Byron Filson. Expect a single release and EP launch show later that year.

We love music and love expressing our political views through it. So if you're looking for a band that combines great music with a message, look no further than seven points of deception.

We are a group of passionate musicians who are determined to make a difference through our music.

Our sound is characterized by high energy guitar riffs, pounding drums, and powerful vocals. We draw inspiration from a range of influences, including classic rock, punk, metal, and grunge.

However, we are not just about the music.

We use our lyrics to express our political views and shine a light on issues that we believe need attention.

We believe that music is a powerful medium for social change, and we are committed to using our platform to make a difference.

Our live shows are a testament to our commitment to our music and our message.

We pour all of our energy into our performances, and we always aim to leave our audiences feeling inspired and empowered.

So, if you're looking for a band that not only rocks but also has a message, look no further than seven points of deception. We're here to make a difference, one note at a time.

Get blasted with the raw power of Seven Points of Deception!
