

Introducing Oticon Real™

Be curious. Be involved. Stay sharp.

Oticon Real is our new hearing aid family that gives you back the real sounds of life. The sounds that make our days memorable. The sounds that connect us to one another - and keep our minds curious, aware, and sharp.

Your hearing matters

Without the real sounds of life, you miss out on important information. This means your brain must work harder to fill in the gaps - which can be tiring - making it harder for you to stay sharp in every moment.

Your hearing matters when it comes to being at your best.

Experience the real sounds of life

Oticon Real features advanced technology that has learned to recognise all types of sound, their details, and how they should ideally sound – so you can experience the real sounds of life.

BrainHearing™ technology

Helps your brain function at its best by giving you access to all the meaningful sounds around you in perfect balance.

Designed for comfort

Instantly and precisely balances disruptive sounds like wind, handling noise, and sudden sounds in your environment.

Exceptional speech clarity

Delivers incredible sound quality and provides you with better access to speech – so you can follow conversations with ease.

Enjoy hands-free calls, direct streaming, and more

Stay connected to your digital world. With Oticon Real, you can make hands-free calls from iPhone and iPad,¹ and stream directly from your favourite device, including select Android™ devices.²

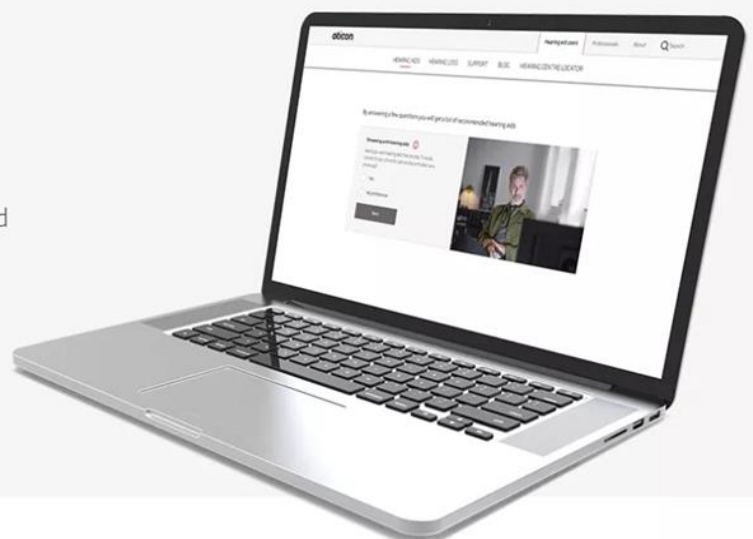

There are two charging options available, and you can also connect a remote microphone, and easily stream sound to your TV with the TV Adapter.
