Dear Sir/Madam:

Respectfully transmitting to you the enclosed original certificate of registration issued by the IPOPHL for your above-referenced trademark.

The enclosed certificate provides you with the following exclusive right:

to prevent all third parties not having your consent from using in the course of trade identical or similar signs or containers for goods or services which are identical or similar to those in respect of which the trademark is registered where such use would result in a likelihood of confusion.

You may exercise such exclusive right within the Philippine jurisdiction only.

At present, a trademark registration is perpetually renewable every 10 years from its official registration date. Timely reminders regarding this are on us.

Also, to maintain a trademark registration, Declaration of Actual Use (DAU) or simply "proof of use" in commerce is required to be filed with the IPOPHL based on the following schedules (all timely reminders are again on us):

- 3rd year from filing date;
- within 1 year from 5th anniversary of registration;
- within 1 year from date of renewal;
- within 1 year from 5th anniversary of each renewal.

If you have other concerns, please write to us.

Congratulations!

Sincerely and respectfully,

Edmar A. Tundayag

THE PRESIDENT GOLDEN TRI-QUAD DRAGON CORPORATION UNIT T-5 3RD FLR SILICONE BLDG 169., MAYAMOT, ANTIPOLO CITY
We are pleased to inform you that you are now registered with the Social Security System with assigned employer ID Number indicated in the attached Certification of Registration.
In this regard, we enjoin you to comply with the following:
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Remit your contributions with respect to your employees following the enclosed Revised Schedule of Payment Deadlines. Otherwise, a penalty of three percent (3%) per month from the date the contribution falls due until fully paid shall be charged. Contributions collected from your employees but are not remitted shall expose you to the penal provisions of RA 8282 also known as Social Security Act of 1997.2. When remitting your contributions, always see to it that your Employer ID Number and the SS Numbers of your employees are correct to ensure the proper posting of the said contributions.3. Report your new employee/s within thirty (30) days from employment date by submitting an accomplished "Employment Report" (SS Form R-1A) to the nearest SSS branch office. Failure to report your employee/s within the prescribed period shall render you liable for damages equivalent to the benefits to which said employee/s would have been entitled in case of any contingency had the employee/s been reported on time (Sec. 24 of R.A. 8282). The contributions must likewise be paid on time.4. Any changes in your business name, address, ownership, legal personality, etc., must be communicated at once to the SSS to update your records and help facilitate future transactions.5. When temporarily suspending or permanently closing your business, you promptly notify the SSS by submitting the Employer Data Change Request (SSS Form R-8) with supporting documents. This will preclude the possibility of being billed of contributions when there is no longer any business operation.
Further, may we advise you to proceed to the Accounts Management Section of MASINAG Branch for the conduct of briefing/seminar on SSS policies including privileges and benefits.
Please feel free to communicate with us should you need clarification or assistance regarding the above matters. For more information regarding the program of SSS, you may visit our official website www.sss.gov.ph or call us at 920-6446 up to 55 or 917-7777.
