The Peruvian Amazon Rainforest

With an area of almost 4 million square kilometers, the Amazon basin is one of the largest and densest areas in the world, hosting over 2,500 species of fish, 1,500 species of birds, and 50,000 species of plants, and new discoveries are made every day.

The amazon River

The Amazon is the most voluminous river globally in terms of the amount of water it pours into the sea (approximately 20% of all freshwater flowing into the oceans), its drainage area, length, and width. It's home to many wonders of the natural world.

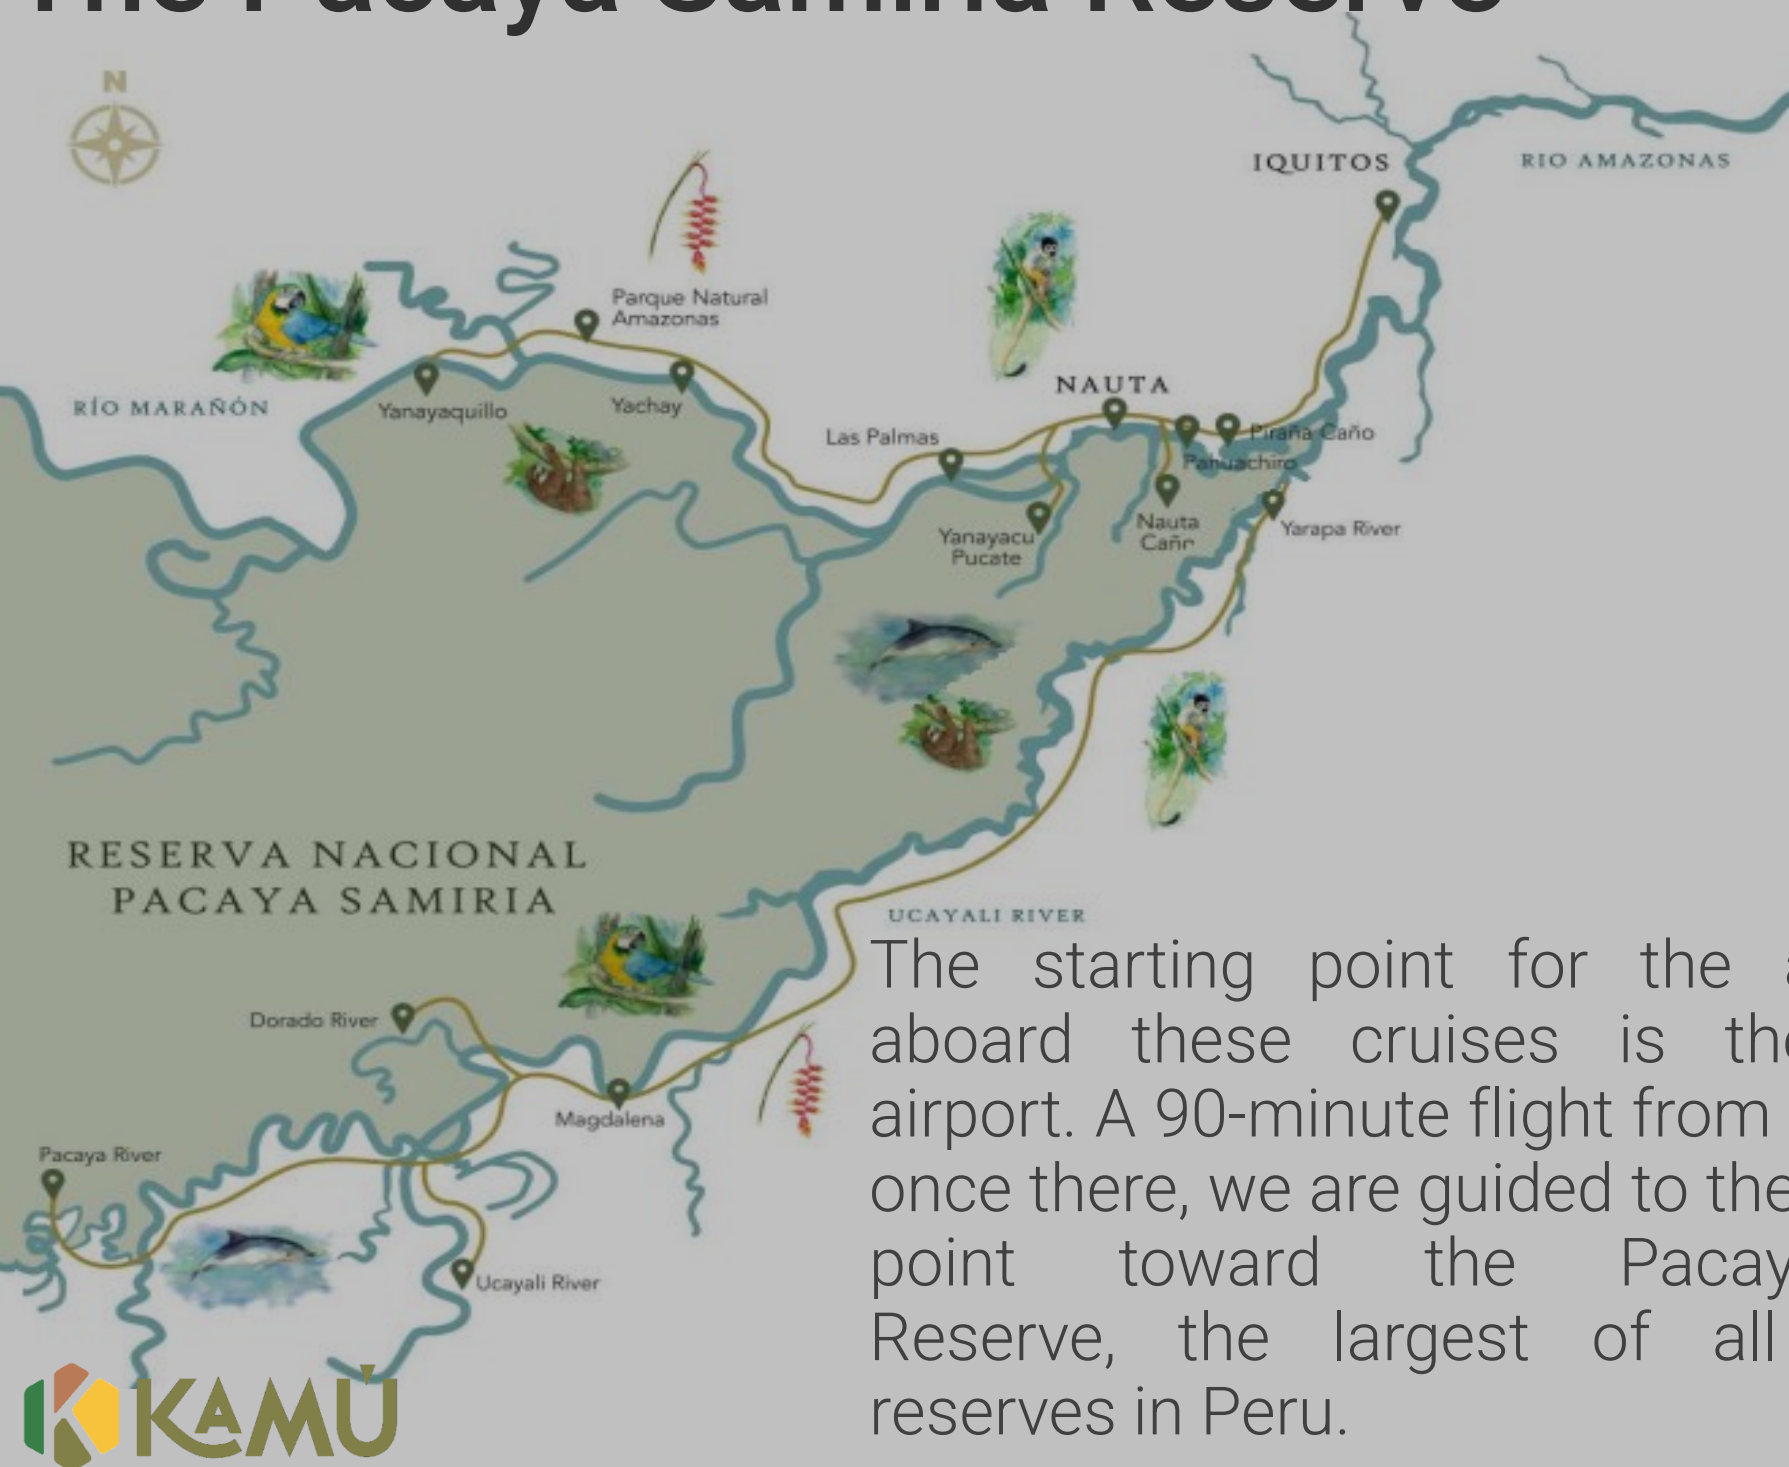

These cruises offer great infrastructure and services, charming crew members, and naturalist guides who share their profound knowledge about the marvelous Peruvian jungle and its species. Undoubtedly, this is one of the most special trips one can take in Peru.

The Pacaya Samiria Reserve

The starting point for the adventure aboard these cruises is the Iquitos airport. A 90-minute flight from Lima, and once there, we are guided to the boarding point toward the Pacaya-Samiria Reserve, the largest of all national reserves in Peru.
