

THE IELTS HUB

MAIN RD, ALFALAH TOWN, SADIQABAD, PAKISTAN

 (+92) 03008355061

Conversational PHRASES

(with Junaid Zafar)

theielts.hub

theieltshub

I'm fully on board

Meaning: I completely support or agree with something.

Example: If you decide to expand the program internationally, I'm fully on board.

I'm inclined to agree

Meaning: I tend to agree after considering the facts.

Example: After reviewing the data, I'm inclined to agree with your conclusion.

I stand corrected

Meaning: I acknowledge that I was mistaken.

Example: I believed the policy had changed, but I stand corrected.

I beg to differ

Meaning: I respectfully disagree.

Example: I beg to differ; I believe the issue requires deeper analysis.

I'm under the impression

Meaning: I believe something to be true, possibly based on limited information.

Example: I'm under the impression that the schedule has been revised.

I'm pressed for time

Meaning: I have very limited time available.

Example: I'm pressed for time, so let's address the main points only.

I'm not entirely convinced

Meaning: I still have doubts or reservations.

Example: I'm not entirely convinced this strategy will deliver sustainable results.

I'm open to discussion

Meaning: I am willing to consider other ideas.

Example: I'm open to discussion if you have alternative proposals.

I'm in favor of

Meaning: I support a particular idea or plan.

Example: I'm in favor of introducing more practical sessions.

I'm reluctant to

Meaning: I hesitate or am unwilling to do something.

Example: I'm reluctant to finalize the deal without reviewing the contract.

I'm well aware

Meaning: I clearly understand a situation.

Example: I'm well aware of the challenges students face during preparation.

I'm genuinely concerned

Meaning: I am truly worried about something.

Example: I'm genuinely concerned about the decline in academic standards.

I'm beyond grateful

Meaning: I am extremely thankful.

Example: I'm beyond grateful for the trust my students place in me.

I'm not at liberty to say

Meaning: I am not permitted to disclose information.

Example: I'm not at liberty to say when the announcement will be made.

I'm taking that into account

Meaning: I am considering that information carefully.

Example: I'm taking your feedback into account before making a decision.

I'm of the opinion that

Meaning: I believe that.

Example: I'm of the opinion that consistency leads to long-term success.

I'm on the same page

Meaning: I agree and understand clearly.

Example: I'm glad we're on the same page regarding the project goals.

I'm keeping an open mind

Meaning: I am not making judgments yet.

Example: I'm keeping an open mind about the proposed changes.

I'm willing to compromise

Meaning: I am ready to adjust for mutual benefit.

Example: I'm willing to compromise if it strengthens the partnership.

I'm weighing my options

Meaning: I am carefully considering different choices.

Example: I'm weighing my options before launching the new initiative.

I'm cautiously optimistic

Meaning: I am hopeful but careful.

Example: I'm cautiously optimistic about the outcome of this plan.

I'm not opposed to

Meaning: I do not disagree with something.

Example: I'm not opposed to revising the schedule if necessary.

I'm giving it serious thought

Meaning: I am thinking about it carefully.

Example: I'm giving it serious thought before making a long-term commitment.

I'm striving for excellence

Meaning: I am working to achieve high standards.

Example: I'm striving for excellence in every project I undertake.