Field notes from an ongoing private imaginative practice

These drawings span years and were created spontaneously
- without preparatory studies or narrative planning. Figures, environments and relationships emerge through attentive immersion in the drawings. They are presented as sketchbook works: the paper tone may vary and small marks or blemishes are part of the record.

Availability: originals and/or archival pigment prints may be available upon request.

Two works include minimal digital color overlays; all drawings originate as pen-and-ink sketches.

Images are presented for viewing purposes only. Reproduction or redistribution requires permission.
