

MGA 2025-2026 SEASON RECAP — THE GOOD, THE BAD & THE BOGEY

A Completely Unbiased* Review of the Season (*Bias Not Guaranteed)

MONDAY LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS — 'The MGA Monday Madness'

MONEY LEADERS

Bob Woldyk ($285) ruled the Monday money list like a man who brought his accountant as a caddie.

Bob Wardwell ($278) — proof that winning on Mondays is the best therapy after a rough weekend.

Tom Olejnik ($277) showed up and showed out — third in cash, which must have made the commute worth it.

BIRDIE KINGS

Bob Wardwell (15 birdies) apparently treats par like a personal insult — relentlessly went under it all season.

Bob Woldyk (14 birdies) wasn't far behind, because apparently the Bobs run this league.

Jim Glavin & Bob Smith (9 birdies each) quietly stalked the leaderboard like they were in the birdie witness protection program.

SKINS WINNERS

Bob Woldyk (9 skins, $141) was basically printing money. At this point, someone should check his bag for a slot machine.

Bob Wardwell (5 skins, $60) — clearly the birdies and the skins were a package deal for Bob this season.

John Muni & Tom Olejnik (2 skins each) — respectable showings by the Non-Bob contingent.

SCORING AVERAGES (MON)

Peter Anderson (77.9 gross avg) kept his game tighter than most people keep their resolutions in January.

Bob Wardwell (79.1) proved consistency is indeed a virtue — a remarkably low average across 11 rounds.

At the other end: Robert Tulio (116 avg gross) — bravely posted scores that lesser men would have quietly shredded.

IRON MAN AWARD — James Schweitzer & Ron Fuller (15 rounds each) — Either deeply dedicated or deeply forgetful of other commitments.

WEDNESDAY LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS — 'Wild Wednesday Warriors'

MONEY LEADERS

Mo Tabaie ($341) absolutely dominated the Wednesday purse like he had a side deal with the golf gods.

Peter Anderson ($299) — showed up on both days and took money home both times. Some call it talent. Others call it strategy.

Ron Myers ($289) — quietly raking it in week after week while playing it cool with the personality of a sleeper pick.

BIRDIE KINGS

Peter Anderson (14 birdies) was on a one-man campaign to birdie every hole on the course by the end of the season.

Michael Dick & Bob Wardwell (11 birdies each) — relentless birdie machines who clearly eat eagles for breakfast.

Keith Yothers (9 birdies) — sneaky good, always lurking, never getting enough credit.

Peter Anderson, Michael Dick & Doug Harrington (3 skins each) — a three-way tie at the top. Democracy in action.

Robert Johnsen (3 skins, $45) — because Wednesday is apparently Johnsen's day to separate you from your money.

SCORING AVERAGES (WED)

Peter Anderson (78.2 gross avg) — arguably the best ball striker in both leagues, averaging sub-80 on BOTH days. Insufferable.

Bob Smith (79.3) — not to be confused with Bob Wardwell or Bob Woldyk. The Bobs are everywhere.

Bob Wardwell (79.9) — again. Because one Bob showing up on two different days wasn't enough.

Ray Fritz (110.8 avg gross, Wed) bravely submitted scores that required a scientific notation — respect for showing up.

 IRON MAN AWARD — Jon Kettering, Ron Myers & Darryl Searer (17 rounds each, max possible) — They didn't miss a single event.

At this point we suspect they live on the 18th green.

COMBINED SEASON HIGHLIGHTS — 'The Full Monty (and Wednesday)'

COMBINED MONEY KING

Bob Wardwell ($542 combined) — played BOTH leagues and dominated BOTH. If this is a hobby, we'd love to see his job.

Mo Tabaie ($492) — Wednesday specialist who also dabbled in Monday destruction. A two-day menace.

Tom Olejnik ($469) — Mr. Consistency across both leagues, quietly stacking cash like a golf-themed Scrooge McDuck.

COMBINED BIRDIE CHAMPION

Bob Wardwell (26 combined birdies) — this man made more birdies than a bird sanctuary. Absolutely astonishing.

Michael Dick (20 birdies) — proving that a good last name doesn't define you, but a birdie record does.

Peter Anderson (18 birdies) — spread them evenly Mon & Wed. A true artisan of the red number.

COMBINED SKINS CHAMPION

Bob Woldyk (9 skins, $141) — ALL on Monday. Woldyk didn't bother with Wednesday — why fix what isn't broken?

Bob Wardwell (6 combined skins, $75) — skins across BOTH days. Truly an equal opportunity skin collector.

FINAL THOUGHTS

Another season in the books. The Bobs ran the money list, Peter Anderson was suspiciously good on two different days.

and Ray Fritz submitted enough high scores to personally offset everyone else's scoring averages.

See you on the first tee — same time, same place, same excuses.
