CALIFORNIA DISASTER

We interrupt our publishing to provide important information that is happening in California.

Fuel refineries are leaving California; truckers are boycotting and there is now a food crisis in the state.

FOOD CRISIS

Truckers are refusing to enter California and stores are running out of food, restaurants are closing, schools are serving minimum lunches. People are panic buying with limits placed on just about every food item.

The California Crisis will affect several states in the Southwest and could even cause supply issues across the entire country. Prepare yourself and your family by stocking up now. Some economist predict that due to the coming collapse of the dollar we will be faced with higher prices. Buying food now is never a waste and remember to rotate your stores. As one man declared a few years back, "Dig up your lawn and plant vegetables"
