

ALTERED PAINTS

CERTIFICATE OF (QUESTIONABLE) AUTHENTICITY

This document serves as official, legally-vague proof that the attached ornament is a genuine, one-of-a-kind work of art created under the influence of:

Fine Grapes     Fine Green     A concerning amount of both

The Artist's Declaration

I, _____ (Artist Name or Alias), hereby declare that this ornament was produced with at least 10% talent and 90% "vibe." I swear that any smudges, fingerprints, or accidental glitter-explosions were intentional "creative choices" meant to challenge the status quo of holiday decor.

Technical Specifications

Style:  High-Concept     Tipsy-Minimalism     "I Forgot What I Was Doing"

Drying Time: Approximately 20 minutes (or until the pizza arrives).

Estimated Market Value: One (1) high-five or a very polite "Oh, that's... unique!"

Official Validation

"I have looked at this art and I can confirm it is, indeed, made of paint." – Signature of Witness (The person sitting next to you who is also currently struggling)

Fine Print: Altered Paints™ is not liable for any ornaments that "mysteriously disappear" because your family won't let you hang a neon-pink weed leaf on the heirloom Christmas tree. Keep it on your refrigerator, you rebel.
