

Local Liaison and Coordination

Trusted local coordination for clients operating across Libya

SERVICE OVERVIEW

TBS provides trusted local liaison and coordination support for clients operating across Libya. Successful operations here often depend on relationships, communication and the ability to resolve issues quickly on the ground. TBS helps clients manage local interfaces, coordinate with stakeholders, support access requirements, liaise with suppliers and keep practical control of daily operational tasks. The service is well suited to visiting teams, international companies, project managers, contractors and organisations without a permanent local presence. TBS can act as a reliable in-country coordination point before, during and after client activity.

HOW WE DELIVER

Liaison support begins by identifying who needs to be engaged, what needs to be coordinated and where the client may face delays or gaps in local understanding. TBS then provides structured coordination that keeps communication clear, actions tracked and local issues addressed. Support is delivered professionally and with a clear understanding of client expectations. TBS translates local complexity into manageable tasks, so clients have a dependable point of contact on the ground.

WHEN CLIENTS ENGAGE TBS

Clients typically engage TBS for:

- The client needs local support but has no permanent team in Libya
- Visiting teams need reliable coordination before and during activity
- Projects involve multiple stakeholders, suppliers or locations
- Access, meetings, logistics or site arrangements

need local follow-up

- Daily operational issues need practical problem-solving

WHAT THIS MEANS IN PRACTICE

- Local stakeholder communication and coordination
- Authority, access and site liaison support
- Supplier engagement, follow-up and issue resolution
- Meeting, visit and daily activity coordination
- Client representation support where appropriate
- Embedded liaison personnel for tasks that need a local presence

A dependable local coordination point for clients who need presence, follow-up and practical support on the ground.

WHY TBS

Local liaison is the day-to-day work of keeping things moving on the ground: knowing who to talk to, when to escalate, and how to follow up until it is done. In Libya that means dealing with authorities, suppliers, site contacts and officials across different regions, and staying on top of the detail so small problems are caught early.

As a Libya-based company, TBS does this in person and answers for delivery, reporting back so clients know where things stand.
