

IVY Results Disclaimer

IVY is designed to support and enhance your preparation for medical school and other high-stakes interviews. While the platform provides structured frameworks, tools, and feedback to improve performance, we do not guarantee any specific outcomes, including interview invitations, acceptances, or admissions decisions.

Admissions decisions are made by independent institutions and are influenced by many factors beyond interview performance, including academic metrics, experiences, timing, and applicant pool variability.

By using IVY, you acknowledge that:

- Your results depend on your individual effort, preparation, and application profile
- IVY provides guidance and tools, not admissions decisions
- Past success of other users does not guarantee similar outcomes

IVY is intended to help you perform at your highest level—but final outcomes remain outside of our control.
