Subject: BALS Announces Renewed Mandate, Strategic Initiatives, and Official Affiliation with TUC

NASSAU, THE BAHAMAS – At a press conference called by the Trade Union Congress (TUC) today, Mr. Rodrick Wood, President of The Bahamas Association of Land Surveyors (BALS), outlined a comprehensive agenda signaling a new era of proactive governance and public service for the profession.

The updates underscore BALS's commitment to collaboration, integrity, and national development.

Key Announcements Include:

1. Official TUC Affiliation: BALS has officially joined the Trade Union Congress, strengthening its advocacy for members and aligning with the broader labor movement in The Bahamas.
2. Successful Geospatial Week 2025: BALS, with partners, successfully hosted the nation's first-ever Geospatial Week (October 16-18, 2025), a landmark event for the sector. Follow-up initiatives are now in planning.
3. Governance and Collaboration:
  - The BALS Council has held a productive courtesy call with the Director of Lands and Surveys.
  - The Association is still awaiting the formal appointment of the Surveyor-General's representative since October 28, 2025 to the BALS Council to ensure fully integrated governance.
4. Groundbreaking Committees Established: At a General Meeting at Akhepran International Academy, members ratified the creation of four (4) pivotal committees:
  - Truth and Reconciliation Committee (TRC)
  - Budget and Finance Committee
  - Geodetic Committee
  - Membership and Standards Committee
5. Land Surveyors Board Nominations: The BALS Council has submitted its nominations for the Land Surveyors Board, which were ratified by the general membership.
6. Expanded Public Engagement: BALS is planning immediate public functions in Abaco and Grand Bahama, part of a broader national tour to serve all islands.
7. Engagement with Financial Sector: Plans are underway to meet with banks and lending institutions to streamline processes related to land development and ownership.
8. Media Challenge & Future Projects: BALS challenged the media to help inspire youth, empower communities, and support its transformation. Upcoming projects include erecting monuments on every island and launching the association's first website and podcast in early 2026.

Quote from President Rodrick Wood:

"The Bahamas Association of Land Surveyors is awake, active, and organized. Our affiliation with the TUC and the establishment of these transformative committees reflect our unwavering commitment to good governance, professional excellence, and service to the people of The Bahamas. We are building an association that is fit for purpose and ready to meet the challenges of the future. We call on the media to be our partners in this journey, helping us to engage the next generation and serve every community across our islands."
